5. Once the "menu" application is up and running, click on the "Custom Install" button.

6. A new menu will open allowing you to individually download a number of software packages and resources for your SRM-20. Find the "SRP Player" menu item and click the "Install" button to begin the software installation process. If you wish to install any other items for your SRM-20 you can navigate back to this menu and do so.

NOTE: If you decide that you would like to have all of these resources available on your workstation, click the "Install" button in step 5 to go through a standard installation.
